

Who are we?

The George Veterinary Group is a large, independent mixed practice based in Malmesbury on the edge of the Cotswolds Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. As part of the GVG, the George Pig Practice provides a comprehensive range of services to a broad and varied client base, including large, integrated multi-site operations, traditional family farms and small-scale producers, including consulting internationally. We have strong links with the UK pig and livestock sectors as well as the undergraduate programmes of several UK vet schools.

As a team of 5 dedicated pig vets, we have a breadth of experience and, for the last three years we have offered a structured, pig vet internship programme as part of the species specific internships across the group.

What does our Pig Vet Internship offer you?

PROUDLY INDEPENDENT

- ✓ Fully structured, 12-month programme including face-to-face tutorials, practical skills sessions and on-farm, shadowing visits
- ✓ Holistic approach to farm visits – evaluation of production figures, welfare assessments, all aspects of pig health and epidemiology, detailed diagnostics, utilising our in-house laboratory plus pathology and surgery
- ✓ Dedicated mentor support with the combined experience and input of the whole team
- ✓ Opportunities for involvement in undergraduate and stockman education programmes
- ✓ Attractive salary package plus bonus on completion
- ✓ RCVS and Pig Veterinary Society subscriptions funded
- ✓ CPD supported
- ✓ Peer group support network and joint tutorials with interns from other GVG species sectors
- ✓ Recruit to retain – there may well be opportunities to progress within the team and the practice. Career development is actively encouraged and supported.

Other Benefits:

The George is a friendly practice team, and everyone is encouraged to get involved. We have an all department, colleague Forum which captures ideas and comment from all areas of the practice encouraging open discussion with the Directors team.

Our Green Group constantly reviews the environmental impact of the whole practice and how this can be improved. Colleague wellbeing is a key pillar of the practice ethos therefore we have a comprehensive support network for all and arrange regular social activities.
